MESSAGE FROM OUR BOARD PRESIDENT & EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The Foundation for Portland Public Schools (FPPS) exists to connect our community with our schools. We have never been more proud of that work or more humbled by the generosity of this community than we have been this year.

We faced challenges that we could not have foreseen, including the longest federal government shutdown in history and major immigration enforcement campaigns, but we rose to meet these challenges time and again, thanks to our community. The outpouring of support we received went above and beyond anything for which we could have hoped.

This year was about more than just responding to crises, though. Thanks to an anonymous $1 million donation—our largest one-time gift ever—we made major investments in art and music programs and began exploring ways to more sustainably fund our work. We invested more than $1.7 million in the Portland Public Schools (PPS) this year, from STEM programs to field trips to free eyeglasses for low-income families, and much, much more.

Thank you for helping to make this possible. We hope that this report inspires you as much as it does us.

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

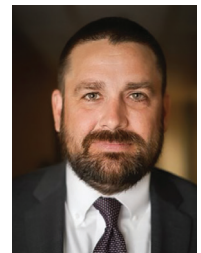

The Foundation for Portland Public Schools is an invaluable partner to the Portland Public Schools. Our district is deeply grateful to FPPS for the wide variety of ways the Foundation works to strengthen our schools through community investment—expanding our capacity to support our students, staff and families. Areas where FPPS provides funding include academics, staff grants, meeting students' and families' basic needs, and system-wide support.

All the programs that FPPS works to identify and fundraise for are aligned to the priorities of our five-year Strategic Plan: Achievement, Equity, Whole Student, People and Systems.

FPPS' programs and priorities include a STEM fund that enhances our Achievement goal by fostering science, technology, engineering and math learning at PPS. It does that by supporting STEM curriculum development, purchasing texts and supplies, and supporting the district's Mobile Makerspace, which engages all elementary school students in design, innovation, and engineering. The FPPS Music and the Arts Program, which provides students with musical instruments, art supplies, and opportunities to attend concerts, museums, and performances, aligns with our Whole Student goal. FPPS' Ed Feeney Athletics Fund, providing basic athletic gear to students who want to play sports but can't afford the gear needed, supports our Whole Student and Equity goals. The Foundation's Addressing the Opportunity Gap program is a community campaign to accelerate and expand our Equity work. And FPPS' annual grant programs provide our educators with funds for innovative and creative projects, strengthening our Achievement and People efforts.

The Foundation also plays a key role in augmenting non-personnel budgetary needs—providing enrichments and extras and keeping the impact of the school budget on local taxpayers as low as possible. For example, FPPS is providing approximately $51,000 in our 2026-2027 budget to support the development of our new Local Black History curriculum.

We'll be devoting the 2026-2027 school year to implementing our Strategic Plan's third-year initiatives. As we begin another year of realizing this plan's priorities, we feel incredibly fortunate to have this Foundation working hand-in-hand with us in support of our students and staff.

OUR IMPACT IS GROWING: YEARLY INVESTMENT IN PPS

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

FPPS is committed to academic excellence for all students. Over the last year, we continued our support of the Mobile Makerspace, which provides PPS elementary school students with innovative engineering experiences; purchased math practice kits for kindergartners; provided funds for the development of the Black History curriculum and the implementation of Wabanaki studies; and ensured that students had access to full-day summer school.

We also supported the 12th annual STEM Expos to expand students' knowledge of and interest in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics fields. Held at Deering High School, Portland High School, and Talbot Community School, students had the chance to engage in hands-on science activities and speak directly with professionals from a range of fields.

Our work in these areas helps increase student engagement, improve academic outcomes, and build workforce readiness. FPPS has worked closely with educators on these issues, which are priorities laid out in the school district's five-year strategic plan.

STUDENT WELL-BEING

Students can't learn when they're hungry, when they can't see clearly, or when they're struggling with their mental health. That's why FPPS has programs like the PPS Food Fund, Families in Crisis, and the Healthcare Access Fund.

For the second year in a row, FPPS teamed up with Greater Portland Health to provide free eye exams and glasses to students across the district.

This helped students perform better in school, sports, and all parts of life by improving reading, reducing headaches and eye strain, and improving behavior.

In late October 2025, FPPS made an urgent appeal to our community during the long-running government shutdown that disrupted the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), often called food stamps. Food-insecure Portland Public Schools students and families faced a hunger crisis.

The community's response was stunning—438 people donated an incredible $86,647.98 over the following month to the PPS Food Fund.

We worked closely with school counselors and social workers, distributing these funds quickly and equitably, purchasing 1,080 grocery store gift cards, and helping stock school food pantries with our friends at the Locker Project.

In January 2026, Portland was the target of an increased immigration enforcement campaign. Many community members looking for ways to support their neighbors through that time turned to FPPS to support immigrant students and families in PPS.

We raised over a quarter of a million dollars for our Families in Crisis Fund early in the year in an outpouring of support.

Thanks to the diligent work of PPS social workers and multilingual specialists, we were able to get these funds to families facing eviction or loss of utilities as a result of disruptions in work resulting from increased immigration enforcement.

MUSIC & THE ARTS

Arts and music education benefits students' mental health, keeps them engaged in school, and builds community. One study by the National Endowment for the Arts showed that involvement in the arts and music can even improve graduation rates.

Thanks to the generous support of a family of anonymous PPS alumni, who donated $1 million to FPPS and earmarked half for arts and music, we have hugely expanded our work in this area.

To enhance arts and music education, FPPS piloted a new program called the PPS Arts Partnership in the 2025–26 school year. This program provides funding so schools can bring outstanding local artists into classrooms to enhance the curriculum through art projects or workshops over multiple sessions. We are happy to report this program was a major success and is expanding across the school district in the next school year. Thank you to 240 Strings, 317 Main, Indigo Arts Alliance, Maine Academy of Modern Music, Portland Museum of Art, Portland Ovations, Portland Stage, Portland Symphony Orchestra, Side x Side, and The Telling Room for joining us in our pilot year!

In addition, FPPS began making much-needed capital investments in PPS performing arts spaces and provided expanded resources to PPS staff. We purchased new stage curtains, lighting, and sound equipment for middle and high schools, and helped ensure that art teachers did not have to spend their own money on art supplies for class.

GRANTS TO PORTLAND SCHOOLS

One of the ways FPPS most directly supports PPS staff and students is through our grant programs.

Last year, we awarded 170 grants totaling $211,434, benefiting students across 17 schools in the district.

The Equity and Innovation Grant Program provides funds for classroom projects that enhance students' learning experiences. For example, these grants create opportunities for expeditionary learning, such as real-life experiences with Maine's lobstering industry. Students learned the importance of lobstering to our community and local economy and went on a lobster boat trip on Casco Bay.

The Co-Curricular Grant Program gives students the chance to explore interests outside the classroom. Last year, FPPS co-curricular grants offset the costs for costumes, sets, and props for school plays and musicals; registration fees and travel costs for a revived Mock Trial; and bought basic materials like starter kits for coding clubs and needles and yarn for a popular knitting club!

Our Summer Planning Grants allow PPS staff to engage in curriculum planning, school team collaboration, or other summer work intended to advance new approaches to student learning or otherwise prepare for the school year.

AND MORE!

We do everything we can to support and enhance the work being done at PPS. Sometimes, that work doesn't fit neatly into one of our major program areas, but it deserves recognition nonetheless.

Working together with our partners at Rippleffect, we gave all middle school students the opportunity to engage in Outdoor Teaching and Learning programs. Students had chances to participate in activities on school grounds, in Baxter Woods, on Cow Island, on high ropes courses, and at Maine Audubon to learn skills like team building and living sustainably.

MAINE COMMUNITY SWIMMING

Maine Community Swimming (MCS) provides water safety education and swimming lessons, ensuring that everyone has the opportunity to learn essential swimming skills, regardless of their background or abilities. They work with PPS students and across Greater Portland to provide culturally relevant, trauma-informed programming. Over the past year, MCS has worked with PPS to provide second-grade students with swim lessons during the school day.

As of July 1, 2026, MCS is an independent nonprofit organization! It's been our honor to be the fiscal sponsor for Maine Community Swimming for the last two years. We look forward to continued collaboration.

A huge thank you to the following individuals and organizations that have supported MCS over the last year:
